Design and analysis of handoff algorithms in mobile

September 10th, 2018 - The handoff algorithms employed in a cellular network have a significant impact on overall network performance but evaluation of handoff performance has for the most part been done using only

Accurate performance analysis of hard handoff algorithms

October 9th, 2018 - A new analysis technique for evaluating the performance of handoff algorithms is introduced

Performance Evaluation of Signal Strength Based Handover

November 3rd, 2018 - Performance evaluation of handover algorithms has been studied for mobile cellular network. Effects of averaging hysteresis margin and shadow fading are investigated for different handoff algorithms.

Locally optimal soft handoff algorithms Vehicular

November 5th, 2018 - of the static threshold handoff algorithm the third generation cdma2000 1X standard recommends the dynamic threshold handoff algorithm. In this paper we introduce an LO soft handoff algorithm and compare its performance with other algorithms. The primary objective of a soft handoff algorithm is to provide good signal quality.

Performance evaluation of vertical handoff decision

November 11th, 2018 - integrative performance of VHO algorithms in frequent handoff cases. Performance evaluation models. In order to evaluate performance of VHO algorithms we design and implement four evaluation models. The former two are for the traversing scenario and the latter two are for the roaming scenario.

Performance Analysis and Optimization of Handoff

October 5th, 2018 - In heterogeneous wireless networks handoff can be separated into two parts: horizontal handoff (HHO) and vertical handoff (VHO). VHO plays an important role to fulfill seamless data transfer when mobile nodes cross wireless access networks with different link layer technologies.
